

Mount Arthur Reserve Trails

The trails in the Mt Arthur Reserve are relatively narrow bush trails. Trail intersections are marked with signs and the trails themselves are marked with yellow paint on trees. Trail preparation on the Mt Arthur Challenge courses is underway, including spraying to help better define the trails. Closer to the event the courses will be marked with flagging tape and additional signage. Until this is completed, this guide should be used by those wishing to train on either the “Wedgetail Challenge” or “Wallaby Run” courses.

Please also look at the elevation profiles for each course, available on the Mt Arthur Challenge website: www.mtarthurchallenge.org.au.

The Wedgetail Challenge

The 9km "Wedgetail Challenge" is a figure of 8 course which starts and ends at the Wellington Showground. The sections of the Wedgetail Challenge falling within the Reserve use Brennan's Way (a minor road with bitumen and gravel sections), walking trails and a marked route.

For those wishing to train on the Wedgetail Challenge course, we recommend parking along the edge of Brennan's way either near the Sewage Treatment works, or at the junction with the Yarraman Trail. After parking:

BLUE ARROWS ON MAP

1. Turn off Brennan's Way at the start of the Yarraman Trail
2. At the first junction along the Yarraman Trail turn right onto the Bundari Trail
3. The Bundari Trail continues steeply to almost the highest point on the course.
4. Turn right off the Bundari Trail onto the Apex Nature Trail for a short distance.
5. Turn right onto the Man of the Mountain route (this section of the route does not appear on the Mt Arthur Reserve Trail maps) and follow the yellow tree blazes as you descend to Brennan's Way
6. Turn right onto Brennan's Way and follow it back to the Yarraman Trail.

RED ARROWS ON MAP

7. Turn back onto the Yarraman Trail and follow it to Bushrangers Creek road. Please exercise caution at the junction of the Yarraman Trail with Bushrangers Creek Rd. Rather than following Bushrangers Creek Road back to Brennan's Way, we recommend returning back along the Yarraman Trail and Brennan's Way to your car.

The Wallaby Run

The 5km "Wallaby Run" also starts and ends at the Wellington Showground. The sections of the Wallaby Run which are within the Reserve use Brennan's Way (a minor road with bitumen and gravel sections) and the Yarraman Trail.

For those wishing to train on the Wallaby Run course, we recommend parking along the edge of Brennan's way either near the Sewage Treatment works, or at the junction with the Yarraman Trail. After parking:

1. Turn off Brennan's Way at the start of the Yarraman Trail.
2. Follow the Yarraman Trail to Bushrangers Creek road. Please exercise caution at the junction of the Yarraman Trail with Bushrangers Creek Rd. Rather than following Bushrangers Creek Road back to Brennan's Way, we recommend returning back along the Yarraman Trail and Brennan's Way to your car.
